Help for the industry - from the industry

Thursday 29th May 2014

Groundworks Event

This is a free event run by the industry for the industry as part of the UK-wide Working Well Together (WWT) campaign.

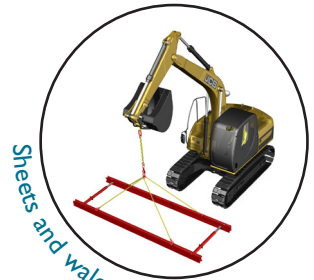

We have a fantastic line up to help ensure the health and safety of those who work in excavations. We are running two parallel sessions of half a day each, one session will be “avoiding underground services, utility surveying” and the other will be “the safe management of excavations”. Both sessions involve both theoretical and practical elements, that should keep the delegates engaged through these very important aspects of construction safety.

MGF (ground support systems supplier) will be providing delegates with a process for managing excavation safety including temporary works management and completing a design brief. Delegates will be given a demonstration of how to safely and efficiently install trench support in 3m deep trench.

In the avoiding underground services, utility surveying delegates will be shown how to carry out a utility survey and will have plenty of hands on time using some traditional CAT & Genny equipment and some state of the art equipment. Delegates will be shown the value of using the signal generator and the associated plug in adapters that significantly increase the chances of detecting buried services.

There is no charge for the event so BOOK NOW as places are limited.

Delegates are requested to bring their own PPE including hard hats, safety footwear, high visibility coats/vests and gloves. There will be plenty of time for questions and practice ensuring the skills are learnt.
